

Limits Gas Delivery

Government To Save For Aircraft

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The government today forbade the delivery of aviation gasoline to re-sellers or consumers who have as much as a three-day supply on hand.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman, who took the action, said it was "a further move to conserve scarce supplies" because of the nation-wide strike of oil workers which has affected roughly one-third of the industry. Chapman acted in his capacity as Petroleum Administrator for Defense.

The order is effective as of 2:01 a.m. (Central Standard Time) tomorrow.

It provides that when a consumer's or re-seller's supply falls below the three-day level, he may get a delivery in his customary quantity, even though this raises his inventory above the three-day limit.

Supply Based On Inventory
Supply is to be calculated on the basis of the average inventory maintained during March. The inventory is to include all aviation gasoline kept in any storage facility, including the tanks of planes.

All aircraft operated by the United States government are exempted.

Midwest states, the suspension applies are: North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

AP Correspondent Oatis May Get UN Hearing

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) said today the United Nations should be asked to begin an unprecedented legal attempt to free Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis from a Czechoslovakian jail.

Mrs. Rogers told the House that a formal petition will be filed in New York tomorrow asking the United Nations to bring Oatis' case before the international court of justice.

She said his release will be asked on the same grounds used to free prisoners held without charge in a local jail. This use of the writ of habeas corpus has never been tried before in international affairs.

Oatis has been imprisoned for more than a year on what the state department calls trumped up charges of espionage.

The petition to the UN will say that Oatis was tried and imprisoned without the guarantees due any citizen of the world under the United Nations charter on human rights, Mrs. Rogers said.

The petition was prepared by Luis Kutner, a Chicago attorney, and will be presented first to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the U. N. human rights commission.

Kutner said in an interview that, if the UN pursued the petition, it could result in the world court's formally demanding Oatis' release.

Horsemen Reject Purse Increase At Sportsman's

Chicago, May 8 (AP)—Negotiations between horse owners, in their fourth day of strike at Sportsman's Park, and track President William H. Johnston, broke down today.

Johnston offered a purse distribution of $23,000 for Friday's program and $25,500 for Saturday, last day of the spring meeting at Sportsman's.

"The increases are 30.7 per cent over the same two days last year," said Johnston.

The offer was rejected. Horsemen are demanding that 50 per cent of the track's share of mutuels be paid out in purses.

"We would like a counter-proposal based on a percentage of the handle," a horsemen's committee member said. "This is the fairest system, but Mr. Johnston refuses to negotiate on this formula."

RUSSELL DOESN'T KNOW THE ANSWER

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia was asked today to "clear up the mystery" of why any man would want to run for president.

Russell, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, touched off a round of laughter with this reply at a National Press Club luncheon:

"I am afraid I can't answer that. I studied law instead of medicine. I didn't specialize in psychopathic fields."

Gen. Clark To Continue Truce Talks

Munsan, Korea, Friday, May 9 (AP)—Korean truce talks, near collapse over prisoner exchange, were clouded further today with the seizure of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Red war prisoners on Koje island.

Communist negotiators are already angry over the large number of Allied-held prisoners who won't return to Red soil. They are expected to use the incident for new charges that the Allies mistreat prisoners.

The news that Dodd, Koje island commander, was seized Wednesday reached here at a time when the negotiating atmosphere was electric and no new sparks were needed. Dodd still is held hostage.

A U. N. command spokesman declined comment on what he thought the Red truce negotiators would make of Dodd's seizure.

It is unlikely that any Red action will come so soon as today's session of the armistice negotiations. Farewell Visit By Ridgway

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway Thursday paid a farewell visit to this truce camp but declined to say what he thought now of prospects for an armistice. Neither would his successor, Gen. Mark Clark, who accompanied Ridgway and Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth army commander.

Ridgway quits his United Nations command in the Far East Monday and will leave to take over as commander of Allied powers in Europe, succeeding General Eisenhower.

Clark, who takes command responsibility for the negotiations when Ridgway leaves, replied when correspondents asked his views on armistice prospects:

"I'm thoroughly confused. I'm getting briefed, and one of these days I will begin to have some opinion."

Communist delegates Thursday accused the Allies of refusing to negotiate on the crucial issue of prisoner exchange.

Yet they brushed aside a second United Nations command request for an indefinite recess and called for another session today.

And so U. N. delegates wearily returned to the faded tent of Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (8 p.m. CST, Thursday).

Ten Months Of Negotiations
As the tenth month of negotiations ends today, U. N. negotiators were leaving no room for Communist haggling over the prisoner issue.

The U. N. delegates were committed to the principle that captives in Allied hands never will be forced to return to Red rule against their wishes.

The U. N. offered to return 70,000 prisoners who said they would go to Communist territory without being forced. But about 60,000 Chinese and North Korean soldiers declared they would rather die than return to Communist soil.

The Communists want all military prisoners returned.

The Communists accepted two parts of a three-part package Joy delivered April 28. It amounted to an agreement by the Allies to permit construction of North Korean military airfields during a truce in exchange for Communist withdrawal of Russia's nomination as a truce supervisor. But the Reds violently objected to voluntary repatriation of prisoners, the third part of the package.

Camp Cooke, Calif., May 8 (AP)—Illinois' 44th Division today put on a gigantic military show for its governor, who called it "the most memorable day of my life."

National guard infantrymen, some 15,000 strong, paraded smartly before Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Maj. Gen. Harry L. Bolen of Cairo, Ill., commander of the 44th. It was the group's first divisional review since federal activation last February.

More than 50 per cent of the division's strength comes from Illinois, with inductees from other states filling out the ranks. Referring to the latter, the Governor told them "all of you are now adopted sons of Illinois."

Only word of the division's ultimate destination came recently from Gen. Mark Clark who said that individual elements of the division would be used as Korean replacements from time to time.

Although he has tried to steer away from politics on his visit here, the Governor has had at least two lengthy telephone calls from Democratic committeeman Jacob Arvey, boss of the powerful Cook county Democratic organization. Arvey, who picked Stevenson to run for governor four years ago, said that Illinois Democrats at their convention today in Springfield want to endorse Stevenson for president.

DID WORRY CAUSE THE BABY'S ULCER?

Chicago, May 8 (AP)—You might call it a sign of the times: a baby has been born prematurely—with an apparent ulcer.

The 16-day-old infant, Elizabeth Dillon of Chicago, was recovering in incubator at Michael Reese Hospital today after successful surgery.

Doctors at the hospital said they believed she is the youngest infant to survive such an operation. One successful operation on a full-term baby is reported in medical literature.

Doctors said the perforation of the intestine probably was caused by an ulcer.

Tension and worry have been listed as major causes of ulcers and perplexed hospital attendants are wondering:

Did Elizabeth worry before she was born?

Atomic Artillery Developed By Army

New York, May 8 (AP)—The army boldly claimed tonight its first atomic artillery weapon can "hit its target under any weather conditions and give ground troops the kind of devastating close support never before available in warfare."

Secretary Frank Pace, in an address laying heavy emphasis on the army's importance in atomic warfare, revealed for the first time official specifications on the atomic gun, which has been tested with non-atomic ammunition. He said:

"It is essentially an artillery piece—but with immeasurably greater power than any artillery hitherto known."

"Carried on a platform suspended between two engine cars at front and rear, this highly mobile atomic weapon can travel at a speed of about 35 miles per hour on highways."

Weighing about 75 tons, it can cross bridges which army engineers are already trained to build for present heavy divisional equipment. It can travel cross-country, fit into a landing ship designed for amphibious operations. It can fire with accuracy comparable to conventional artillery and tests indicate it is much more accurate at long ranges."

Pace said, that in addition to "tactical" atomic bombs for use by aircraft, there is being developed atomic artillery which can outrange the gun-type weapon—"guided missiles and rockets to receive atomic warheads." Units have been training for the use of such weapons and the program is being increased, Pace said.

Without saying what explosive force an atomic artillery shell contained, Pace did give a graphic comparison between the power of a standard A-Bomb and that of conventional artillery or bombs. He said:

"The atomic bomb dropped on Nagasaki had an explosive force approximately equal in effect to the fire of 1,300 battalions of medium field artillery with all guns firing a single round on the same target. In terms of airpower, it would require 50 to 200 strategic bombers, each dropping a full load of conventional bombs on a target, to achieve the same destructive force as the Nagasaki bomb."

(The fire of 1,300 battalions would represent 23,400 guns of 155-millimeter size. Presumably, Pace's use of "strategic bombers" meant the B-29 used in World War II and later in Korea. That airplane has a bomb capacity of 10 tons.)

Hollingsworth's selection was a victory for William G. Stratton, Republican nominee for governor, who sponsored him in opposition to Clarence Bergstrom of Chicago.

The chairman of the state central committee directs the party's fall election campaign. Hollingsworth succeeds Carlos W. Campbell of Springfield, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Stratton, at a luncheon before the election, saluted Bergstrom in a harmony and campaign pep talk "for sitting down and cleaning up some difficulties that may have caused bitterness."

Hollingsworth, an Indiana born and educated former school teacher and Boy Scout executive, told reporters after his election that west side Chicago supporters of Bergstrom "have accepted the leadership."

Referring to Governor Stevenson, Stratton said he didn't underestimate the opposition, "but I'm not overrating it either."

"I think Stevenson is just made to order for this committee to go out and defeat in the fall election," he said.

The committee named William Allen of Peoria as secretary and Stephen Fleming of Chicago, treasurer.

The five other vice chairmen selected with Bergstrom are: John P. Tyrrell, William Robinson and Robert M. Woodward, all of Chicago; John Spence of Gegg in Wayne county and Ben Shafter of Decatur.

Hollingsworth has held elective office twice. Once he served in the 64th general assembly and he was a member of the Joliet junior township high school board.

He said the committee would go to work at once in making a state convention date and arrangements. The date, he said, may be June 1 and 15.

TB CLINIC TO OPEN
Singapore—(AP)—The finest anti-tuberculosis clinic in the Far East with a daily treatment capacity of 5,000 patients will be in operation here in July.

Operated by the Singapore Anti-Tuberculosis Association, the clinic will have seven X-ray machines, said Dr. G. H. Garlick, the director.

Taft And Ike Disagree On Foreign Aid

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Two leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination split sharply today over the size of the foreign aid program needed to guarantee American security during the next 12 months.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said congressional proposals to cut foreign aid by one billion dollars would be "heavily and seriously felt"—and that cuts substantially beyond that point might endanger U. S. security.

"I do not at all agree," Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio declared at a Hartford, Conn., news conference when informed of Eisenhower's statement.

The senator said a cut of even two billion dollars, bringing mutual security spending down to about six billion for the next fiscal year, "would in no way endanger the program or the security of the United States."

Eisenhower's views were expressed in a message to Sen. Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

He told Connally there can be little question but that the nation's mutual security policy is gradually stabilizing "the international scene."

The commander of the North Atlantic treaty forces spoke in guarded terms and said his statement about aid funds was based on a number of assumptions. These included the assumption that the financial computations of President Truman's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill have been "competently made on the basis of our military requirements."

Eisenhower is giving up his international command June 1 and returning to the United States, where he is being boomed for the Republican presidential nomination.

Connally called him last Monday, requesting comment on the bill and on the effect of any reductions in it.

The senate foreign relations committee has recommended a one billion dollar cut in the bill, while yesterday the House foreign affairs committee unanimously approved a cut of $1,010,000,000.

Stevenson Choice Of State Demos For President

Springfield, Ill., May 8 (AP)—Illinois Democrats at their state convention today boosted Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's presidential nomination despite his insistence he doesn't want to run.

Amid applause, convention delegates at the state armory approved a resolution praising Stevenson as "ideally qualified" for president.

Many delegates wore big buttons on which was inscribed: "We need Adlai badly."

Arvey of Chicago, national committeeman for Illinois has been saying all along he hasn't given up on the idea of drafting Stevenson, who has repeated that he could not accept the presidential nomination this summer.

Arvey told reporters he doesn't regard the resolution as a "draft" move but said he looked upon it as a strong expression of sentiment for Stevenson.

Today, the governor sent a telegram to the state meeting stressing his campaign for reelection as governor.

"Our task in the coming campaign is to demonstrate to the people that the Democratic party offers the best program and the best candidates for Illinois," Stevenson's telegram said.

"To that task I intend to devote all my energies in the months ahead."

Farewell From Danes Is Chant 'I Like Ike'

By the Associated Press
Eisenhower was in far-off Copenhagen, Denmark, on the last lap of a farewell tour of North Atlantic treaty nations before donning his uniform and returning to the United States about June 1.

Addressing a rally of Danish students, who set him grinning with chants of "I like Ike," the five-star general said he was going home because of "special circumstances," and he declared:

"In every country of the world where free people want to be free, there my heart will always be, no matter where I am and no matter what my next job is."

France Asks U.S. For Half A Million Says Need Urgent

Paris, May 8 (AP)—France has told the United States she needs almost a half a billion dollars more to fulfill her commitments to western defense this year.

Defense Minister Rene Pleven says the need is urgent.

American officials here are reluctant to talk. One official said, however, the French were told 600 million dollars was the limit of U. S. aid this fiscal year, and that if the French had difficulties in carrying out their program a "sympathetic bearing" would be given to additional French requests.

The money asked is to be used for "off-shore purchases"—that is, purchase of equipment made out of the United States, in this case in France.

Gen. Dodd Held At Koje

Air Force Hurls Mighty Blow On Suan In Korea

Seoul, Friday, May 9 (AP)—Allied warplanes Thursday turned a big North Korea base into flaming ruin with the mightiest air blow of the entire Korean war, the Fifth Air Force said.

The crushing down to dusk aerial assault followed by only 24 hours big Allied tank raids along the restless, 155-mile Korean front. Both sides appeared on edge as the Armistice talks mired deeper in stalemate.

The base that felt the fury of Allied air power was Suan, a big supply complex 35 miles southeast of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. It covers eight square miles.

The first F-80 Shooting Star flashed over Suan as the sun broke over the surrounding hills, let go with demolition bombs, and from then on until sundown the defenders of Suan knew no peace.

The air force, in calling this the biggest single attack of the war, said wave on wave of jet fighters, bombers and prop-driven Mustangs, Corsairs, Skyraiders and Panther Jets of the attached First Marine Air Wing thundered over.

They heaped tons of high explosive demolition bombs and thousands of gallons of jellied gasoline fire bombs upon the sprawl of buildings and stacked supplies. Great billows of flame and smoke boiled up.

Apparently in response to distress calls from Suan, the Communists sent two flights of MIG-15 jet fighters down to challenge the attackers, but they were met by a protecting screen of U. S. Sabres and some Australian Meteor jets.

The Air Force said two MIGs were destroyed and a third damaged before the MIGs turned and fled back to their Manchurian bases. No MIG had got closer to Suan than 40 miles.

The Fifth Air Force said the raid was larger than the record one of a year ago in which 312 planes plastered Red bases near the Manchurian border. It did not give the number of planes involved at Suan.

Rockford Papers May Publish Friday

Rockford, Ill., May 8 (AP)—The AFL, International Typographical Union and the Rockford Consolidated Newspapers, Inc., reached agreement today on a proposal to end a dispute which closed the city's two daily newspapers.

A spokesman for the ITU said "a new contract embracing all the issues involved in the dispute" will be considered by members of Rockford local 213 tonight.

He indicated that the local's scale committee had recommended the contract be approved.

He said if the rank and file union members approved the new agreement, "the newspapers probably would be able to publish Friday afternoon editions."

The publishing company reportedly also has reached agreement on a contract with the CIO American newspaper guild, covering editorial members of its staff. This union, which was not involved in the ITU dispute, also is reportedly meeting tonight to vote on the agreement.

The Guild, whose contract with the publisher expired Feb. 1, has been negotiating a new agreement since early this year.

Terms of the Guild contract were not disclosed.

The ITU walked out of the newspaper plant March 24. After the walkout, the company continued to publish its Morning Star and afternoon Register-Republic until April 23, when mass picketing prevented publication.

Manufacture Of Color TV Sets In Offing

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Ranking government officials said today a decision on whether to permit manufacture of color television sets may be made next week.

Henry H. Fowler, National Production Authority chief, said he "would not be surprised if they got relief."

He was referring to the radio industry and its plans for manufacturing color television sets.

Fowler told a reporter the big problem in lifting the present ban on making color TV sets is not materials but talent.

Although rocks of the Cambrian geological era are the first in which fossils appear in abundance, enough fossils have been found in rocks of previous ages to indicate that life existed on earth before that time.

Ridgway Says 'Use Force To Free Him'

Seoul, Friday, May 9 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today instructed the Eighth Army "to take whatever action is required and to use whatever force is necessary to recover General Dodd—we pray, unharmed—without delay . . . to establish and therefore maintain unchallenged control of all Communist prisoners of war in our custody."

Dodd was seized Wednesday by Communist prisoners of war on the Koje island stockade.

Ridgway handed the firm orders to Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, shortly before the supreme Allied command left Korea last night.

Ridgway said these orders must remain in effect to prevent any similar incident at the stormy prison camp off southeast Korea.

Release Demands Ignored
"Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, United Nations commanding general of prisoner of war camp No. 1 on Koje island, was forcibly seized by Communist prisoners of war and is being held in the camp against his will. The demand for his immediate release unharmed has been ignored by the Communists."

"Gen. Dodd, with another officer, was conferring with Communist leaders at the gate of one of the compounds at about 1515 hours local time, May 7 (12:15 a.m. CST Wednesday) without warning the two officers were seized and forced within the inclosure by the prisoners. The second officer managed to escape and make his way to freedom."

"Gen. Dodd, of Tallahassee, Fla., was overpowered and held by the Communists. The Eighth army said a note has been received in Gen. Dodd's handwriting, indicating that he is unharmed."

"The Eighth army said efforts are being made to effect the release of Gen. Dodd. There are no other details available at this time."

The nature of the efforts for his release was not disclosed.

Third Outbreak In Three Months
The sensational capture of the camp commandant was the third major outbreak on the prison island in three months.

Seventy-eight prisoners and one U. S. soldier were killed and more than 1700 prisoners were injured Feb. 13 in a riot among 5,900 die-hard Communists in the notorious compound No. 63.

The army did not say whether this same compound was involved in Dodd's seizure.

Dodd was named commandant of the camp as a result of the February riot.

He had come to Korea from the U. S. only Feb. 6 as deputy chief of staff of the Eighth army.

On March 13, Communist prisoners began hurling rocks at a group of North Koreans who had disavowed Communism. South Korean guards opened fire, killing 12 and wounding 26 of the Communists.

Dodd said subsequently that he had taken steps to prevent further disorders, tightening up on discipline and removing Red political signs from the compounds.

On April 25 the army announced that prisoners who disavow Communism were being moved off the island to six new camps on the South Korean mainland.

This would have left on Koje about 70,000 convinced Reds.

SOME THIEVES MUST LIKE HEAVY WORK
Baltimore, May 8 (AP)—There can be a lot of hard work connected with grand larceny.

Forecast For Central Illinois

ALLIES' COURSE IS TO PROTECT RIGHTS IN BERLIN AIR CORRIDOR

After some seven years of "incidents" involving outrageous Russian behavior toward the citizens of free nations, what new expressions of indignation are left to us? Now we have an apparently calculated attack by two Russian jets on an Air France passenger plane flying to Berlin. Three persons were wounded, one seriously, and only sheer luck prevented the French craft from crashing in flames.

You might be able to make excuse for the Russians if only one attacker was involved. That there were two, who made four passes altogether at the passenger ship, seems to take the matter out of the realm of innocent mistakes. The Air France pilot firmly declares he was flying in the prescribed air corridor maintained by the western powers across Soviet Germany to Berlin.

The Russians have replied with one of their standard denials, saying the plane was outside the corridor and refused to land when directed to do so.

Considering the Russians' reputation for truthfulness, there is no reason to accept their version of the incident. But even if it were correct that the Air France plane had strayed beyond the corridor, isn't shooting it up a pretty drastic penalty for a navigational error?

A civilized nation, confronted with such a violation, would probably assume the first time that it was accidental. Officials might lodge a mild protest, with stiffer reminders following if more mistakes occurred.

Who but the Russians would turn to their guns the instant an error was detected?

What is really to be feared in this case, however, is not just that the Russians have shown again their essential bestiality. The danger is that this incident is the opener in a new series of terroristic acts designed to limit the value of the air corridor in the hope perhaps of promoting a new and more effective blockade of Berlin.

The Allied course is clear. We operate in the Berlin air corridor by right, not by sufferance of the Russians. It becomes necessary to demonstrate the fact more fully, we can do it. We can supply fighter protection for our Berlin traffic.

Doubtless the Soviet Union will think twice before ordering its brave pilots to tangle with American flyers equipped to deal them the same kind of harsh handling the Reds gave the defenseless Air France passengers and crew.

BUSINESS IS THE KEY

There is nothing more interesting or important in these items than what is grouped under the general designation of business. Production and availability of goods and services are principal factors in the nations' economy.

To bring to the people the necessities of life as well as luxuries is the purpose of business. No figures are watched more closely than those contained in the weekly business index. Sales volume and price fluctuations disclose trends to both manufacturer and retailer.

When government attempts to regulate either or both, the entire economy is handicapped. Laws against monopolies are necessary but the government, should go little further than that if business is to operate in an orderly and profitable manner.

Under present conditions no business large or small, can be certain what rules may be imposed upon it tomorrow or next week. But who would deny that the entire welfare of the nation depends upon progress business is permitted to make?

NO LONGER NICE PEOPLE

J. Edgar Hoover's announcement that crime in the United States continued to increase in the year 1951 is not a pleasant commentary on American society.

Quoting figures from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, he has made public facts which are alarming, and should arouse the public as to the potentialities of a situation which finds both human life and property insecure. An average of 5.157 crimes a day is a startling figure.

Hoover says the greatest number arrested by age groups were 23 years old, certainly an age at which individuals should know right from wrong. Crime is a challenge to home, church, school as well as to the adults who set the examples.

So far no one has advanced war as being responsible for an increase in crime, at least the crime of murder. War frequently was advanced as a primary cause of an increase in killings three decades ago. But it is obvious that a sizable segment of the population can no longer be classified as nice people, and Hoover has the figures to prove it.

Hollywood — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Irene Dunne's stepping off that Hollywood pedestal labeled "Miss Prestige."

It will be comedy, broad or subtle, from now on for classic-faced Irene, who's celebrating her 20th year as a movie star.

"I'm through with those big prestige pictures," she told me on the set of UFA's "It Grows On Trees," in which she plays a zany but believable character in the tradition of her one-time comedy hit, "Theodora Goes Wild."

"My last two films, 'I Remember Mama' and 'The Mudlark' were prestige movies. I guess I've made more heavy epics than anyone in Hollywood. But times have changed. I'm sticking to comedies from now on."

"It Grows On Trees," which Arthur Lubin is directing, is the story of a housewife who buys two trees at a nursery, plants them in her backyard and discovers that they grow money. The one planted in the shade grows $5 bills and the one in the sun, $10 bills.

There's romance in the life of Jean Pierre Aumont for the first time since Maria Montez's tragic death. The lady's name—Hildegard Neff... Errol Flynn has the year's most fabulous percentage deal with UFA for the film, "Against All Flags," in which he co-stars with Maureen O'Hara. Flynn and the studio will share 50-50 in the profits.

"SHOOT-EM-UP" DURING

Bette Davis' guesting with Jimmy Durante on his TV show was an eye-brow raiser. Bette made her video debut reading the commercial and then went into a comedy sketch playing Jimmy's wife. There's a big argument and Jimmy winds up shooting Bette's eight Oscars off a shelf like ducks in a shooting gallery!

Bidding for Jimmy's life story, by the way is hot and heavy with four film studios trying to get him on the dotted line. The movie will be based on Gene Fowler's biography, which Jimmy has approved except for Fowler's inference that Jimmy is still self-conscious about his nose.

"That's ridiculous," says Jimmy. "I love that nose."

Hollywood Reconnnaissance: There's no Ava Sinatra in the Hollywood telephone book, but a Frank Gardner is listed.

The Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini romance is more solid than ever, with the new baby bringing them even closer together. That's the flash from Erik Blythe, a New York stage actor who recently completed a top role with Ingrid in "Europa, 1952," Erik's now in Hollywood for "Invasion, U.S.A.," and reports:

"That man Rossellini has a way with Ingrid. He's got the smoothest line of dialog I've ever heard."

Cornel Wilde's blushing about that tropical ground of virtue matting on his chest on the billboards for "At Swords Point." Riding the crest of the wave as a high-voltage star since his click in "The Greatest Show on Earth," Cornel said:

"I guess I have an adequate amount of hair on my chest, but not for Howard Hughes. The makeup department insisted on increasing the foliage."

GOING UP!

Richard Conte suggested a certain actor for a role in his new star, "The Riding Kid," but was told by UFA's casting department that the actor was too short to be a sagebrush performer.

"So okay," shrugged Conte, "put him on an Adler elevated saddle."

It's strictly in the don't-breathe-a-word stage, but Hal Wallis and Ezio Pinza have been confabbing about "The Life of Chailapin" to lure movie audiences who went hook, line and sinker for "The Great Caruso."

Wanda Hendrix is still giggling. She met a genuine sheik while making "South of Algiers" in the North African desert and he tossed his only four English words at her: "Baby, you slay me."

The stately halls of England dept.: Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has just bought a 19th Century mansion in Kensington. Orson Welles, who's a whodunit all to himself, is writing the last pages of his first book—a murder mystery. The censors are clamping down on Peggy Castle's way of reading her lines as a sultry doll in "Invasion, U.S.A." Too Mae Westish!

Ricard Montalban has been cleared by MGM to star in Budd Boetticher's independent, "The Number One," in Spain next March. It's Boetticher's follow-up to "The Bull-fighter and the Lady."

More Employers Are Proving Handicapped Workers' Value

By Edwin J. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is claimed that there are nearly one-quarter of a million persons in the United States whose difficulty with hearing is a real handicap in getting or holding a job.

The scope of the hearing problem is therefore enormous, particularly in these days when everyone who can be usefully employed should be making a contribution towards helping this country to meet its problems.

As has been emphasized in this column and in many other places, we should strive to prevent deafness whenever possible, but there will always be some who develop difficulty with their hearing and who will need help from hearing aids, speech training, job placement, or in other ways.

Many agencies, both private and public, are helping in this problem, and the outlook for someone who has difficulty with hearing is much better than it used to be, both from the standpoint of personal comfort, and economic well-being.

Employers have become increasingly aware over the years of the fact that they can hire workers with some physical defect, including difficulty with hearing, and that if they are properly placed, these persons make a real contribution to their employers. Of course, such employees are economically much more independent than they would otherwise be.

It is important, however, that those who are somewhat deaf are really able to carry out the work to which they are assigned, and this sometimes involves special training.

Agencies Find Jobs

Fortunately, there are agencies now at work which help the hard-of-hearing to fit themselves for jobs within their capabilities and also to find such jobs when they are ready for them.

This is a great contribution to the well-being of the country as well as to the individual involved, and it is particularly encouraging that so many employers in recent years have taken an enlightened view towards the useful occupation of those who are physically handicapped, including those who are handicapped by hearing difficulty.

SHAKE PAWS WITH THE OFFICE WOLF

BY HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—No history of the romance of our times is complete without a chapter on that romance of the water cooler—the office wolf.

He is the Peck's bad boy of the business world, but no office is the same without a wolfie or two.

What is an office wolf? In pulp love tales he is luridly pictured as a prowling scoundrel evilly plotting to lead astray a poor but innocent working girl.

In fact, however, his teeth are less sharp than in fiction. Often, alas, his teeth are as false as his designs.

The average office wolf is as harmless as a tame skunk. He isn't really a wolf at all—he is just a mouse with great yearnings. Usually he is a married man with a wife at home who understands him only too thoroughly. That is why he paws his way around the office in the romantic hope of finding some girl who will be kind enough to misunderstand him a little. If there is anything a man can't stand it is to be understood all the time.

One of the delusions of the office wolf is that his overtures to the hired girls are a guilty secret, known only to him.

The girls get a big kick out of comparing the techniques the office wolf tries in his daily rounds. If he ever realized this, he would dwindle quickly into an office mouse. That would be too bad because, by and large, he does bring a sense of wild adventure and fun into the workaday routine.

I don't pretend to be an authority on office wolves. But girls I have consulted on the subject say they generally fall into three classes—bookkeepers, junior executives, and vice presidents. There is also the cub wolf. This is usually an office boy with a desperate case of puppy love for the boss's secretary.

"Bookkeepers want to take you to a horse race on their day off," said one girl. "Junior executives are careful wolves—they want to meet you for a cocktail after work at some out-of-the-way sidestreet bar."

"And vice presidents? Well, they are the pinchers. You have to get out of their way."

This young lady said the two standard feminine formulas for dealing with office wolves are the classic cold shoulder treatment or the play-dumb answer. "Gee, Mr. Jones, I don't get what you mean."

MOUNTAIN LION KILLED

Porterville, Calif.—(P)—With the aid of three dogs, a hunter treed and killed a 150-pound mountain lion in the Eschom Valley recently.

The dogs followed the scent for three miles in a hunt lasting five hours. The big cat measured 8 feet 2 inches from nose to the tip of his tail.

Men Won't Listen—Women's Ideas Never Get Fair Hearing

"When She Talks, The Men Listen." This was the headline over a story about a home economist who travels around the country telling men who sell home appliances all about them and how to make them sell.

The woman who can make men listen when she talks is rare enough to deserve a newspaper write-up.

The sad fact is that men don't like to listen to a woman talk. If there is even a sneaking suspicion she knows more about the subject than they do.

A man will listen attentively and with at least a show of respect to any man who sounds off his ideas, even though it is obvious he is ignorant and poorly informed. Just the fact that he is a man makes those opinions carry some weight.

MEN DON'T WANT TO LEARN FROM WOMEN

But let an intelligent, educated, well-informed woman sound off on her ideas about a serious subject—and men are not only unimpressed, they often aren't even courteous enough to make a pretense of interest.

That lofty attitude of men is in great part responsible for the waste of feminine brains and practical opinions.

Men don't want to learn from women when they can. And they could, often enough, if they were as willing to listen open-mindedly to women as they are to other men.

Most women, even today, can't influence their husbands on serious questions unless they know how to put their ideas across so subtly the men don't realize that they aren't their own original opinions.

Half of the brains of the country never get a fair hearing—simply because men refuse to take women's ideas seriously.

The World Today
BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 8—(P)—The invisible guest at the Korean truce talks ever since they began last July has been that intangible thing called world opinion.

Both sides were fully conscious of it, appealed to it, and were careful about it though more than 320 meetings filled with bickering, crises and hair-splitting.

Each represented itself to people everywhere as the guardian and advance agent of the good life for all people while condemning the other as the enemy of it.

Because the world had a stake in the outcome, each side knew what the opinion of the invisible guest would be toward the side, which broke off the talks and let the war begin for any trivial reason.

Only a few weeks ago there was hope here that the talks would soon reach a successful conclusion with a cease-fire. But suddenly the Communists met a terrible setback in world opinion.

It was on the matter of prisoners. The Communists have about 12,000 U. N. prisoners, about 7,000 of them South Koreans. The U. N. has 173,000 prisoners: 100,000 North Koreans, 30,000 Chinese and 53,000 South Koreans who were civilians or who had fought for the Communists.

Before there could be a cease-fire agreement, the Communists wanted an exchange of prisoners: They'd hand over their 12,000 for the 173,000 held by the U. N.

But the U. N. said: Suppose some of the 173,000 don't want to go back? The U. N. remembered that many Russians taken prisoner by the Germans in World War II, committed suicide rather than be returned to Russia after the war.

The U. N. polled its prisoners and reported that only 70,000 out of the 173,000 would go back willingly. The U. N. said it would not force the rest to return.

This was a shocking blow to Communist prestige in Asia and everywhere. They refused to accept the U. N. position on prisoners.

If the talks broke off now and full war was resumed, this country was in a good position to appeal to world opinion to blame the Communists.

This was done yesterday by President Truman, who summed it up: An armistice would not be bought at the price of the 103,000 prisoners who didn't want to return to Communist control where they might be killed.

It was a statement of the American position in language that people on both sides of the iron curtain can understand.

Odds Favor High Court Vote Against Steel Seizure Action

Washington — (NEA) — Trying to dope out what the Supreme Court decision and vote will be in the steel industry seizure case is the best guessing game in Washington. Odds seem to favor a six-to-three decision against the government.

This would sustain Federal Judge David A. Pine's original decision, ordering the seized mills returned to private management. It would be a far reaching decision that the president does not have the constitutional power to seize private property, even during an emergency.

Many lawyers feel this is such a sound law it can't be upset.

The three justices expected to vote to sustain the government are Douglas, Minton and Reed. If the decision is handed down by a five-to-four vote, Justice Hugo Black might join this trio.

If the decision should go five to four the other way, Justice Tom Clark might be counted with this group. If the vote is six to three to over-rule Judge Pine's decision, Justice Hugo Black might be found with the majority.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justice Robert Jackson, Democrats, along with Justice Harold Burton, the only Republican on the Supreme Court, are generally rated as its conservative backbone.

While the chief justice is a close friend of President Truman, and while Justices Truman, Reed and Minton were also Truman appointees, there is an acute awareness that the court may be operating in a Republican administration during the next four years.

In the last 20 years in particular, the Supreme Court never has operated in a vacuum. But a unanimous decision, sustaining Judge Pine would be a surprise.

Major political interest for the merry month of May will center on state political conventions—13 Republicans and 14 Democratic. Roughly a fourth of the convention delegates are to be named at these state conventions—249 Republicans and 311 Democrats.

They will in most cases be the machine candidates. And it is probable that they will hold the balance of power over the delegates already elected and pledged in state primaries.

May 13—West Virginia: 16 Republican, Taft and Stassen entered; 20 Democrat, no entries.

May 16—Oregon: 18 Republican, Eisenhower, Stassen, Warren, MacArthur and Sen. Wayne Morse entered. Some delegates believed secretly pledged to Taft; 12 Democrat, Kefauver, Stevenson and Justice Douglas entered.

May 27—Florida second primary: 24 Democrat, Kefauver and Russell pledged delegates to be chosen; no Republican primary.

June 3—California: 70 Republican, Warren and Rep. T. H. Werdell; 68 Democrat, Kefauver and Edmund G. Brown.

June 3—South Dakota: 14 Republican and 8 Democrat, unpledged.

Children Enjoy Candy Making

THIS YOUNG LADY is preparing a family treat—her own whole-some uncooked nut candy.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Active youngsters love to make candy. How about cutting a little crippled neighbor in on the whole-some fun!

Nonfat dry milk, which is milk with only the fat and water removed, is on the list of abundant foods. It is extremely economical. A one-pound package from your grocer will make five quarts of nonfat milk at only about eight cents a quart.

So let the youngsters use it in their candy recipes. These two recipes require no cooking, so are ideal for the little sisters (or brothers) of the family.

Fondant

One pound confectioners' sugar sifted, 1 cup nonfat dry milk, 1 cup white corn syrup, 1 teaspoon lemon extract.

Sift together sugar and nonfat dry milk. Stir in honey and confectioners' sugar, blending well. Shape into desired forms and size. Decorate with finely chopped nuts, meats, multi-colored sprinkles, etc. Chill at least one hour before serving.

Honey Nut Candy

Mrs. Hieronymus Continues Duty As Nurse At 71

Mrs. Kathryn Hieronymus, 521 E. College avenue, has been informed she has successfully passed her nurse's state board examination which she took the latter part of March in Chicago, Ill. Passing the examination is not so unusual but the fact that Mrs. Hieronymus is in her seventies and a great grandmother four times is exceedingly exceptional.

KATHRYN HIERONYMUS

At the present she is a member of the nursing staff at Our Saviour's hospital.

Mrs. Hieronymus graduated from the School of Nursing at the Passavant Memorial hospital in 1913. At that time her superintendent was the late Mrs. Ida Venner Rodgers. Miss Mabel Reid of this city was surgical supervisor and Mrs. Margaret Mount Brown of 1215 West College avenue was directress of nurses. Mrs. Hieronymus has followed her profession into many fields, school nurse, county nurse, private duty and nurse in large commercial factories have been in the pattern of her 40 years of duty.

Schedule Referendum Monday On Proposition To Form New District

Arrangements to conduct a referendum on the proposition of creating a new community unit school district composed of territory in Morgan, Cass and Pike counties were announced Thursday. Three precincts have been created to conduct the election.

A polling booth for voters within the corporate limits of Meredosia will be set up in the village hall. It will be known as Precinct No. 2. Voters in the Chambersburg district in Pike county, Precinct No. 1, will vote in the seventh and eighth grade building in Chambersburg. Precinct No. 3, composed of all the area in Morgan and Cass counties except the village of Meredosia, will have a polling booth at the Bradley building, located on Route 104 just outside the Meredosia corporate limits.

The election will take place from 12 noon to 7 p.m. Monday. As the proposition for the creation of the new district has aroused considerable public interest, a large turnout of voters is predicted.

According to the provisions of the Illinois public school law, a majority in favor of the proposal must be obtained in each of the three areas involved. The law states that the voters in both the rural and incorporated areas of a contemplated district must each give a favorable majority, and because the present Chambersburg district is an existing high school unit, it, too, must return a separate favorable majority.

Unless all three approve, the new community unit district will not be formed because all three are needed to obtain the 2,000 minimum population required for a community unit area.

Would Be No. 11
Should the proposition pass, the new area probably will be known as Community Unit District No. 11.

a specialist in the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Here is how vegetable crops man Lee Somers explains the current shortage:

For several years farmers operated under a potato price support law that encouraged over-production. The 1951 crop was raised without price supports.

Last fall, when diggings ended, the total U. S. potato crop had reached 335 million bushels. Although that was about 100 million bushels less than the 1950 crop, Somers said it could be expected to supply our normal needs. He added that about 100 million bushels of the 1950 crop were purchased and taken off the market under the price support law.

Excess Purchases But in late November and December last winter, a wave of "shortage" reports started homemakers rushing to the markets. Many bought not only for immediate use, but for home storage, and some of the home-stored potatoes were lost through withering and sprouting. Movement of potatoes in late November and December was 11 per cent greater than in any other year. Price control was then reapplied to potatoes on January 1, 1952, with a provision at the time that retail prices of table-stock potatoes could not rise above the January 1 level.

In explaining the effect of this provision, Somers first outlined the usual storage system of many growers and dealers in potato-producing states like Maine, New York, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Idaho.

Earlier Marketing Some of these men regularly stored potatoes through the entire winter, still marketing them as late as April, May or even June. They expected a loss of about 8 per cent in bulk by April due to shrinkage and rot. Therefore they also expected to get a higher per bushel price than in January.

This past winter, however, when they found that they couldn't get the higher price in April, they pushed these potatoes through the markets as early and rapidly as possible. By April there were few left.

Somers also explained that potato supplies normally coming to market in the south in April were low this year. The Florida crop was good, but a drought cut the Texas yield badly. The California potato season, which usually opens about May 10-15, will be 10 days to two weeks late.

We can expect very few potatoes on the market until late May or early June, Somers said, but some relief is due this month with the arrival of spring-crop potatoes from California and several southern states.

Perfume and Scarves Combine For Beauty and Glamor

A dab of perfume and a touch of color complement this year's pared-down suits. The fashion-wise girl (left) wears two colored woven squares, one at the neckline, the other tucked casually into her pocket. At right she dresses up her new town suit with two oversize handkerchiefs, pinned in back, and tucked into the jacket.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Femininity is a relative thing. There is no standard and uniform set of rules for every woman to follow. Rules are only valid as they apply to you as an individual.

But no matter what your particular requirements may be, if you are looking for something special—something to mark you as a woman with impeccable taste—you'll be interested in the new trend to make scented hankies an important fashion accessory.

They are being tucked into pocketbooks, belts, sleeves and throats—definitely for decoration as well as usefulness.

The yarn-dyed woven hanky, so new and so right, can be worn as a neckerchief or in the pocket of a town tweed suit. A spicy or woody fragrance, sprayed on the handkerchief will seem so compatible with the fresh country air. Of course, if you are in the mood for an ultra-chic perfume, don't let anything stop you from wearing it.

Another elegant note for the new perfume and hanky combinations is the large, sheer-white handkerchief—man's size—that can be worn as an ascot or jabot. Spray your perfume so that you surround yourself and your clothes with a subtle aura of scent. Let your nose tell you whether you wish to use a scintillating brisk scent with a spicy tone or a spring-like floral note.

Spray your perfume on chiffon hankies, because this delicate fabric might get spotted if the scent is poured on directly. Allow a fine mist to settle on the chiffon so that whenever you take your hankie from your pocketbook, it gives you and those with you a sense of loveliness.

This year's really big "new" is polka dots. Polka-dot hankies range from the tiny to the tremendous, with dots the size of small French peas up to huge Spanish coins. And to allow the world to know that you are alert to the added attractiveness of perfume, spray a fresh, young-in-spirit scent on your crisp hankie. Then carry a purse container with you so you may maintain your aura of fragrance during every hour of the day.

Scented hankies—a subtle and beautiful accessory will give you and those you meet a touch of beauty, a lift out of the routine of daily life.

If you are planning to do any drapery or upholstery sewing, use the special threads that have been made expressly for that purpose. Slightly heavier than regular thread, they are fast in color and matched to the latest hues in home furnishing fabrics.

Illini Dick Coleman Is Topnotch Vault

Champaign, Ill.—(Special)—Left-handers are adept at most sports, but a topnotch "southpaw" pole vaulter hadn't appeared on the American track scene until Dick Coleman, Illinois senior, began to surpass 14 feet with regularity.

Coach Leo Johnson feels that Coleman is not only the finest left-hand vaulter in track history but also the greatest Negro performer this event has ever seen.

Further Johnson predicts that the right combination of circumstances will soon send Coleman over the 15-foot mark and that he'll vault that height consistently once he's made it. His best to date is 14-5.

"Coleman's form is virtually perfect," Johnson says. "He gets tremendous height over the bar, but for some reason has failed to clear his hands or elbows at good attempts to make 15 feet. Dick has the speed and strength to be as good as Don Laz or Bobby Richards."

For a youngster who began vaulting over the back fence with a clothes line pole in Canton, Ill., as a grade school student, that's an encouraging prospect. Coleman wasn't a natural left-hander, but was taught to vault that way by his brother, Bill. His record at Canton high school was one of continued improvement and Coleman established a mark of 12 feet, 4 inches for Canton in the Illinois Conference Relays at Keokuk in 1948.

But fame eluded him at the state interscholastic championships in both 1947 and 1948. He finished fifth his first trial, then failed to place the second year. Both times Dick Calisch, now a teammate but then competing for Chicago's University high, was top man in the event.

Following his freshman season, Coleman defeated Calisch regularly and performed in fashion good enough ordinarily to be a Big Ten champion. But, Don Laz happened to be on the same squad and Coleman had to be satisfied with second places behind him.

Dick won his first major championship at the Penn Relays in 1951 when Laz elected to go to Drake. Since then he's added the 1952 Milwaukee Relays, Big Ten indoor, and Drake Relays titles in his honors, and is undefeated in collegiate competition this year.

Johnson and his assistant, Dick Ganslen, who specializes in pole vaulting, have worked to combine in Coleman's style the best points of those employed by Laz and Richards.

Coleman is stronger in proportion to his height (5-11 and 165) than Laz, but not quite so wiry or strong as Richards. Thus he has been trained to combine Laz long swing with Richards' sharp thrust upward near the bar.

That the plan has worked is indicated by Coleman's vaults this year: 14-4, Milwaukee Relays; 14-1, dual meet with Indiana; 14-1, dual meet with Drake; 14-5, dual meet with Purdue; 14-3, Big Ten indoor championships; and 14-3, Drake Relays.

Dick hopes to hit his peak for the Big Ten, NCAA, and Olympic Trials in May and June, so that he may join his illustrious predecessors at Illinois, Laz and Richards, on United States Olympic team.

Coach Johnson feels there isn't a collegiate vaulter in the nation who has a better chance.

Saul Rogovin Spins White Sox To 4-2 Victory

Boston, May 8.—(P)—The Chicago White Sox salvaged the final game of their three game series today by defeating the Boston Red Sox 4-2 as Saul Rogovin threw a five hitter and Ed Stewart produced a two-run homer, his third of the year, in the seventh inning.

The Pale Hose, trailing 0-1, scored twice in the fourth as Ed Robinson hit the first of his two singles with one out. Sam Mele tripled to right to score Robinson and Mele counted on Phil Masi's single to center.

By Innings: Chicago.....000 200 200—4 8 1 Boston.....100 000 001—2 5 1 Scarborough, Delock (8), Atkins (9) and White.

Porky Oliver Gets Fast Start In Greenbrier Open

White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., May 8.—(P)—Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., got away to a fast start in the Greenbrier golf open today by shooting to within one stroke of the course record of 60.

Oliver's 61 put him three strokes up over Sam Snead, the host pro. Par for the 6,368 yard course is 70. Just a stroke behind Snead in the field of 37 scrambling for $10,000 came young Harry Dee of New York.

Tied for fourth at 67 were Doug Douglas of Newark, Del., another stroke behind were Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Dow Finsterwald of Athens, O.

Also battling par, by one stroke, were Marty Furgol of Atlanta, Ga., Skeel Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., and Max Faulkner, the British open champion.

Another nine equalled par, Thum 19, or more than half the field did par or better.

IC-Western Game Called; Augie Today

The non-conference baseball game between Illinois college and Western State of Macomb yesterday was called at the end of four innings because of rain.

The Western nine led 3-0 at the time. Gene Callahan and Walt Lubes had pitched for Coach Joe Brooks' Blueboys.

The game will go into the records as a cancellation because of the late date. Illinois college is host to Augustana in a Little Nine conference game this afternoon. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Blind Shot Putter Bill Bangert Is Regaining Sight

St. Louis, May 8.—(P)—Bill Bangert, St. Louis athlete who had been considered hopelessly blind, is gradually regaining his vision through a new and experimental treatment.

The 28-year-old Bangert, a former national AAU and intercollegiate shotput champion and head of a successful construction business, went blind last fall after suffering recurrent retinal hemorrhages. Doctors could offer him no hope.

But physicians at Deaconess hospital said today an oxygen therapy developed here and tried previously on a few other eye ailments, combined with drugs, has produced "a very dramatic about-face" in his condition.

It is too early to say whether the improvement is permanent, they said, but Bangert is now able to read newspaper headlines for the first time in a year. He plans to leave the hospital tomorrow to continue the oxygen therapy at his home.

Bangert, a former University of Missouri football player who also won attention as an amateur boxer and vocalist, was able to see his 16-month-old daughter, Sharon, yesterday for the first time in nearly a year.

"It is wonderful," he said. "Bangert, a baritone, directs a church choir here. He is slated to sing in Town Hall in New York May 26 with all proceeds going to the U.S. Olympic fund. Bill is an outstanding candidate for the team."

Chuck Davey To Get Crack At Welter Title

Chicago, May 8.—(P)—Chuck Davey, sensational undefeated southpaw, will get a shot at the welterweight championship in Chicago Stadium late this summer, Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said today.

Gibson said Davey, who scored four knockdowns in defeating Chico Vejar, the New York University freshman, last night, will be sent against the winner of a 147-pound title event between champion Ed Gavilan and G. Turner.

The bout is booked in Philadelphia July 2. Meanwhile, Jim Norris, IBC president, said he was reconsidering plans for a Davey-Vejar rematch in Detroit Olympic June 11.

Promoter Bob Worman of Indianapolis said Davey is all set to fight Fritz Pruden in Indianapolis May 28 for the Junior Deputies fund. Davey will be unable to go through with any fight until at least the May 28 date because of a gash over his right eye brow requiring three stitches.

Vejar today received a check for $9,073, his richest purse, for his battle with Davey last night. Davey stalked down his biggest purse, $7,656. Both checks included $1,500 from television receipts.

Braves Chill Bruins 6-4

Chicago, May 8.—(P)—Outfielder Willard Marshall tripled with the bases loaded and singled across a fourth run to lead the Boston Braves to a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs today before a chilled crowd of only 2,046.

Chicago's defeat enabled the idle Cincinnati Reds to climb into a third-place tie with the Cubs. Starter Jim Wilson was credited with his second win against one defeat although he walked seven and had to be rescued by Sheldon Jones and Lew Burdette.

Burdette supplanted Jones in the ninth inning with the bases loaded and two out, and ended the game by getting pinchhitter Bruce Edwards to roll out to third.

Turk Lown, who had hurled eight hitless innings before bowing to Brooklyn 3-1 last Friday, was the loser. Lown retreated after a four-run Boston fourth which featured Marshall's triple and hitting the second batter to face him in the fifth.

By Innings: Boston.....000 402 000—6 7 1 Chicago.....100 001 4 10 0 Wilson, Jones (6), Burdette (5), Hacker (7), Leonard (9) and Atwell.

Racing stiffs originated in England in 1762 at Newmarket. The original registry listed 17 sets of colors. Today the American Jockey Club has a listing of 1,759 sets of colors.

Good Golf's Easy

Straight Back And Through; Swing Is Simple, Says Burke

By Jackie Burke
Golf's Newest Star
The swing is very simple. The club is taken straight back from the ball in the backswing.

"That's all there is to it, and don't let anyone tell you differently. Many good golfers know whether they will play well the instant they pick up a club. The feel of the club tells them."

If the hands are sensitive enough to feel a good shot, it must be that the hands and forearms are the most important factors.

If the hands and forearms are properly coordinated, the shoulders, hips and pivot will follow naturally. Those obtaining an early start, especially as caddies, usually fall naturally into a simple, correct swing.

Like the players of all other games, those who play in their extreme youth have a decided advantage over late starters.

Simplification of the swing is especially essential to those who start late. They haven't had the advantage of imitating a smooth swing in their youth, of literally growing up with one.

Some well-known teachers stress factors that I don't believe any ordinary golfer should worry about. There are a number of elements to the swing, but the average player has so many other things on his mind he cannot find room in his brain to worry about all of them.

I believe that if the average golfer can get some of the worries of a complicated swing out of his mind he gets more out of golf and plays a better game.

ON LINE — Bring the club straight back from the ball.

Simplify the stroke. Pay attention to the hands and forearms. Adopt a comfortable and relaxed stance.

Then take the club straight back from the ball and bring it back through the ball in the same groove on the downswing.

Just think about making the shot as well as you can.

Don't try to steer the ball. A good swing will take care of the results you want, so forget results while making the swing.

That makes the simplest, most-mechanically sound swing you can hope for.

And remember — no swing, no chance.

Minor League Manager Dies

New Brighton, Pa., May 8.—(P)—Funeral services will be held Friday for Frank R. Dessau, former minor league baseball manager and one time major league pitcher.

Dessau, 69, died Tuesday after a long illness.

Dessau managed two clubs in the Three-I league, winning a pennant with Decatur in 1928, and later managing the Springfield team. Before and after his sojourn in the Three-I league, he managed the York, Pa. team.

He was a pitcher in the National league many years ago, with Boston and Brooklyn.

Dessau left baseball to become personnel manager for the American Chain company in York.

Ray Robinson Takes George Off The Hook

By Whitney Martin
New York, May 8.—(P)—Ray Robinson, having changed his mind about letting George do it, has agreed to meet Joey Maxim in a light heavyweight championship match at Yankee Stadium June 23. George probably is very much relieved.

Every time the subject of such a match has come up before Sugar Ray had a stock answer, to wit: "Let George fight him." George is George Gainsford, Robinson's manager, who didn't figure to be hurt at all if he sent his middleweight king into the ring with Maxim.

Not too long ago the International Boxing Club declared with finality that the fight was off. It had been trying to make the match, but Robinson ostensibly wanted no part of it.

That he shouldn't be understandable, for as good as he is it doesn't figure that he can give away 15 pounds or so to a cutesy like Maxim. Joey may not be a great champion, but he knows his way around inside those ropes and is a pretty rugged citizen.

But Ray might have started to do a little figuring. He knows that such a match figures to draw a half-million or better gate, and a fellow can

Expect Record Attendance At Races Tonight

Stock car drivers will present their second show of the season at the Morgan county fairsgrounds tonight.

Over 4,000 racing fans attended the season's opener last Friday night. Local Commissioner Elmer Middendorf said last night that an all-time attendance record will probably be established this evening—if the weather is favorable.

Sonny Gross of Quincy won the 100 lap feature race last week. He will be challenged by such Jacksonville aces as Herb Glancy, Bruce Wolke and Earl Setser in the 40 lap feature this evening.

Time trials will start at 7 o'clock. The first heat race will get underway at 8 p.m.

GI COOKS ITALIAN DISHES

Jersey City, N.J., (P)—"Dear Mama Mia—please send stuff for pizza and spaghetti!"

So wrote Pfc. Sam Mercurio, a Hoboken GI in Korea, a couple of months ago. His family, which runs a restaurant, sent "the works."

Sam couldn't get all the GIs who wanted the tasty Italian dishes into one tent. Some ate their share in the snow.

Sam, who did the cooking, said the results were so good they ran short. Volunteers are now sending home for more supplies.

The largest attendance at a Cincinnati Reds' opening game was 35,747 in 1924 when the Reds defeated the Pirates, 6-5.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Rain halted several athletic events here yesterday afternoon. The Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored junior Olympic track and field meet was postponed until Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The sub district baseball tournament won't get underway until Saturday because of the rain, and Illinois college was deemed a good bet to knock off Western State on the local diamond when the deluge struck.

The Blueboys and visiting Leathernicks slugged it out in the mud through four innings. However, the base paths became so muddy that the athletes couldn't get any traction, and to take a healthy cut at the ball was to invite a mud-smeared uniform.

"Dirtiest player" title went to Blueboy Don Cox, who took a belly-buster slide back into first base. He was called out, then the game was called. What a mess!

The district track meet for high school track meets will be conducted at Macomb today. Eleven ISD cindermen and five from Jacksonville high will carry local colors to the meet. Two of these boys stand a good chance to make the state trip. They are ISD's Bill Van-Spankeren in the broad jump and Tom Kibicka in the discus. Crismon Ron Kemp will be handicapped because of his all-around ability. He doesn't specialize in any special event. Therefore, he's our candidate for the decathlon (if they had one). Ron's best chances are in the broad jump and the shot put.

Crimson Dick Barnes, who set a new school pole vault record with a leap of 10-6 1/2 this year, will have to add another foot to this mark if he wins at Macomb. Here's hoping.

We're booking softball games to be played at Nichols park Sunday afternoon. (Clint Arenz' Juniors will meet the Ebenezer Indians at 1:30 p.m. There's still that 3 o'clock spot to be filled.

Reports from Quincy revealed yesterday that Sonny Gross won the feature race there last weekend. His car was torn down and checked for stock. Result: the car isn't stock but it meets the association specifications. We're not completely clear on this score. Is anybody?

At any rate we'll be at the Morgan county fairsgrounds this Friday night. And if betting were legal, we'd have to put our dough on the Gross. Looks like anybody's going to catch that Plymouth. (It was a Plymouth, wasn't it?)

Jimmy Buckley, past city golf champion, is starting a new generation of golf fanatics at North Jacksonville grade school. Jimmy is taking groups of kid golfers to Nichols park as part of the school's recreation program. It's one of the most popular P.E. programs in town, we're told.

That reminds. The district golf tournament is still set for this Saturday at Nichols park. A huge turnout of prep golfers is anticipated.

Millikin University, a darkhorse in the Little Nine conference baseball race, grabbed a stranglehold on the first place ranking this week with a 9-3 victory over rival Illinois College while Wheaton College, the defending champion and favorite, dropped Lake Forest from a contending position with a 6-0 verdict.

The Crusaders, an earlier victim of the Crushers, had their hopes of retaining the crown blasted when Augustana rallied for a 4-3 triumph last Saturday.

Millikin travels to Elmhurst (0-6) for another conference engagement this Friday. At the same time, Wesleyan and Augustana will meet up.

Indians Club Yankees 12-5, Feller Gets Win

New York, May 8.—(P)—Ray Boone, elevated to the cleanup role, came through in spectacular style, clubbing a home run and single to drive in five runs and lead the rampaging Cleveland Indians to a 12-5 victory today and a sweep of the three-game series with the New York Yankees.

Bob Feller, with the aid of New Lemon, gained credit for the triumph, which boosted the tribe to within 18 percentage points of the league-leading Boston Red Sox. Boston, which lost to the Chicago White Sox, owns a 14-6 record for a .700 percentage. The Indians have a 15-7 mark for .682.

The Indians racked up Ed Lopat in five innings, pummeling their long-time nemesis for seven of their 14 hits before sending him to the showers with his second loss of the season. It was only the ninth time the Indians have beaten the veteran, southpaw who holds 33 decisions over them.

By Innings: Cleveland.....111 030 006—12 14 1 New York.....120 010 001—5 13 1 Feller, Lemon (6) and Tebbetts; Hegan (9), Lopat, Hogue (6), Kuzava (9), Ostrowski (9) and Berra. Winning pitcher—Feller. Losing pitcher—Lopat. HRs: Cleveland—Simpson, Boone; New York—Woodling.

Tommy Bolt Sets Course Record In Mexico

Mexico City, May 8.—(P)—Tommy Bolt, Oklahoma-born pro playing out of Durham, N.C., today set a course record for the New Mexico golf club with a spectacular eight-under-par 32-32-64, and staked himself to a four-stroke lead over runner-up Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, in the first round of the Pan-American $15,000 invitation golf tournament.

Bolt, one of the top money winners on the winter PGA circuit, turned in his record-breaking score, four strokes lower than any competitive record previously shot over the recently opened 7,347 yard course, without the aid of exceptional putting.

The previous record—68—had been set by Bolt himself only yesterday.

The rest of the field, including U.S. open champion Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, trailed Jack Birdell, Jr. and Mangrum. Four pros were tied for third at 71—Jimmy Demaree, Ojai, Calif.; Robert De Vienne, champion of Argentina; Douglas Higgins, Ft. Worth, Texas; and Iverson Martin, Ft. Worth.

Big Ten Baseball Lead At Stake This Weekend

Chicago, May 8.—(P)—The deadlock between Michigan and Wisconsin for the Big Ten baseball lead may be broken this weekend as the Badgers meet third-place Illinois in one of three tests.

Michigan, which like Wisconsin has a 5-1 record, meets Michigan State (3-3) in a three-game set. Friday's opener being at East Lansing, Mich., and Saturday's double-header at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Wisconsin Friday is host to the Illini (4-2), who lead the conference in hitting with .328. Saturday, the Badgers entertain Ohio State (3-3) in a twin bill.

Northwestern (3-3) is at home to Ohio State Friday before Illinois' invasion of Evanston, Ill., Saturday for two games.

Minnesota (3-3), figuring in a four-way tie for fourth place, takes a jaunt into the state of Indiana, playing a singleton at Purdue (1-5) Friday and two at Indiana (1-5) Saturday.

Iowa (2-4) also is a Hoosier state visitor this weekend, meeting Indiana Friday and Purdue for a brace Saturday.

The Badgers must cope with two of the league's eight unbeaten hurlers, Gerald Smith of Illinois and Ohio State's Paul Ebert, each with a 2-0 record.

with Wheaton and Illinois College in contests to try and overtake Millikin. The show-down between the two top contenders will take place Saturday in Bloomington when the Augies and Titans meet.

The weekend schedule is as follows: Friday—Millikin at Elmhurst; Wesleyan at Wheaton; Augustana at Illinois College; Carthage at North Central.

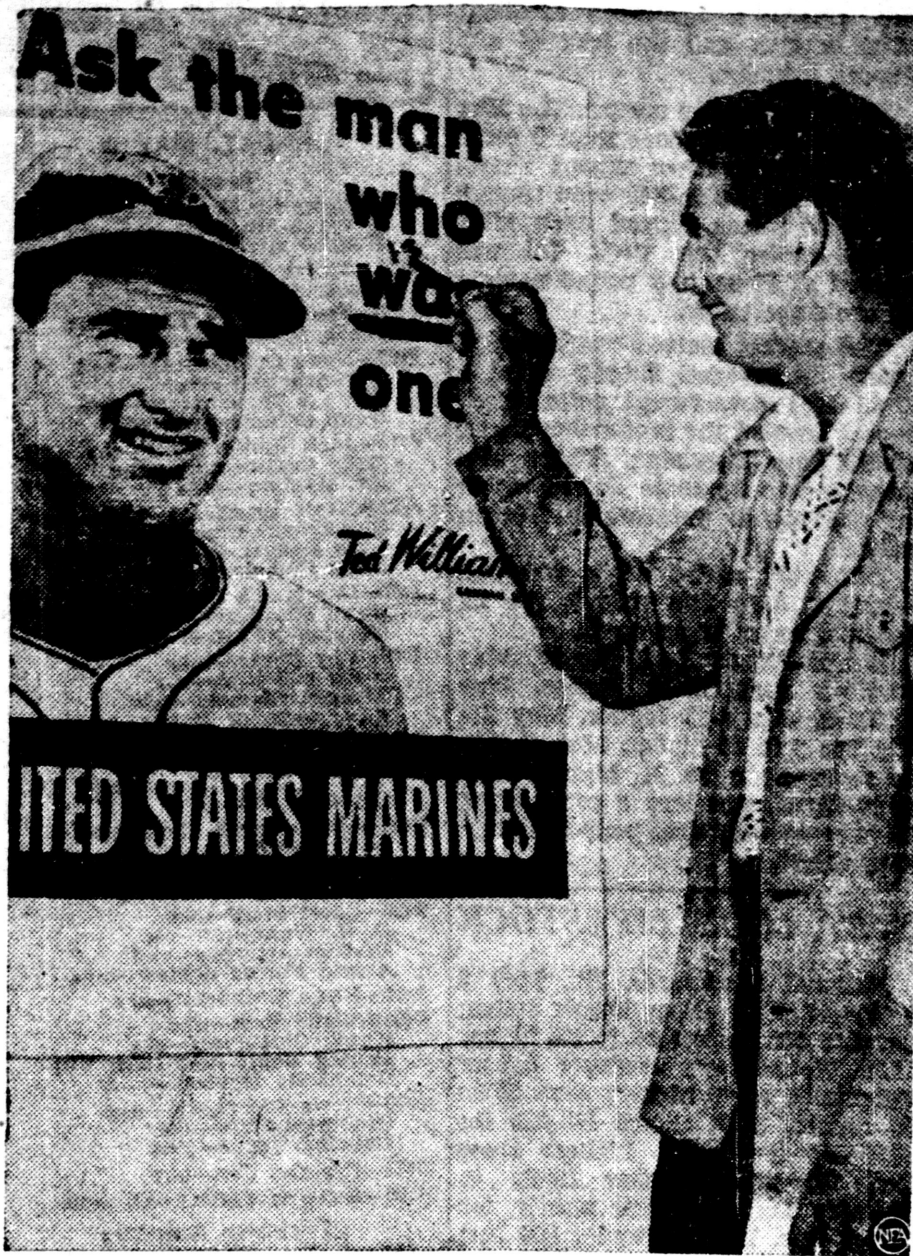

Saturday—North Central at Lake Forest; Carthage at Wheaton; Augustana at Wesleyan.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 8—(P)—Outside order buying continued to hold at strong levels in the hog market today. Prices climbed another 15 to 35 cents in spite of a 10 per cent expansion in supplies.

Two choice loads sold at $20.50 a hundred pounds, highest since Oct. 19. It represented a $3.00 gain in less than two weeks and placed the peak within 75 cents of a year ago.

Most barrows and gilts sold between $18.25 and $20.40 and sows from $15.75 to $17.75. Clearance was good on the 11,000 hogs on sale, up 1,000 over advance indications and compared with 9,656 sold a week ago and 6,502 a year ago.

Cattle supplies were reduced as usual in preparation for the week-end close down of slaughtering operations. Most sold at steady levels although cows closed weak to 25 cents lower. Vealers were steady to $1.00 higher.

A load of just-prime steers established the day's top at $38.00, most good to choice offerings getting $29.50 to $35.00. Good and choice heifers and mixed yearlings took $29.50 to $33.75. Commercial cows reached $26.00, sausage bulls $27.50, beef bulls $25.00, and vealers $37.00.

Lambs were steady. With prime kinds absent, the best of the run graded choice at $28.00 on woolled and $27.50 on clipped offerings. Ewes were weak to 50 cents lower at $12.50 and below.

Also on sale were an estimated 3,000 cattle, 300 calves, and 1,000 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 8—(P)—Easier credit terms for consumers decreed by the federal government boosted the stock market ahead today.

There were other factors entering into the advance, but suspension of regulation "W" on installment buying put pep in the market. Gains ran from fractions to around two points, and there were few losses in important areas to hold the market back.

The volume of business came to an estimated 1,300,000 shares, the best this week. It compares with 1,120,000 shares traded yesterday. Stocks advancing included Studebaker, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Consolidated Natural Gas, Standard Oil (N.J.), U. S. Gypsum, Du Pont, and Radio Corp.

U. S. Government Bonds in the over-the-counter market were firm. Chicago, May 8—(P)—USDA—Live poultry: steady to firm. Receipts 1,271 coops; F.O.B. paying prices unchanged except on fryers a cent a pound higher; heavy hens 23-25; light hens 20-21; fryers 23-25; old roosters 20-21; ducklings 28.

GRAIN PRICES ARE HIGHER IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 8—(P)—Some commission houses buying sent grains higher on the Board of Trade today despite a continued excellent crop outlook and the lack of any export business.

Soybeans led the upturn. The May contract jumped more than 3 cents at times on rather urgent short-covering. Beans rallied even though bean oil prices slipped back after gains earlier this week. Oil was quoted at 91 cents a pound against 10 cents yesterday.

The market started out lower. It made its reversal shortly after a final 1951 government cotton crop report lowered the production figure issued last December. There also appeared to be some short-covering on the rather unfavorable Korean news.

Estimated carlot grain receipts: wheat 8, corn 110; oats 9, rye 15, barley 20 and soybeans 32.

Wheat closed 1-1/2 higher, May $2.47-1/2, corn 1-1/2 higher, May $1.82-1/2, oats 1-1/2 higher, May 81-8 1/2, rye 3 to 4 1/2 higher, May $1.59-1/2, soybeans 2 to 3 1/2 higher, May $2.90-2/2, and land 3 cents lower to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.27.

Fernand McPike Held On Assault, Robbery Charge

Fernand McPike, 914 Cox street, was being held in city jail last night in lieu of $2,000 bond after he admitted Thursday afternoon that he had assaulted and robbed a Scott county man.

McPike was picked up Wednesday night by Jacksonville police shortly after Officers Leach and Stifford had found Claude Sherwin of the Glasgow neighborhood prostrate and bleeding on a vacant lot on West Wolcott street, just west of North Main.

Sherwin suffered many lacerations of the head, face and neck. He was treated by Dr. T. O. Hardesty and was permitted to return home earlier Wednesday.

McPike denied knowing anything about the case, but after questioning by Chief of Police Elwyn and other members of the local police force, he led policemen to the spot where he had thrown Sherwin's billfold, under the piers of the Cain Flour & Feed company warehouse on North West street.

It was empty. Sherwin had said the wallet contained $200. McPike said he took only a dollar bill from it. Identification and allied papers were still in the billfold.

Before McPike took the police to the spot, he had been brought into county court on a warrant charging aggravated assault. Acting Judge Charles Koch, from Scott county, then set his bond at $2,000.

Board Hears Plea For Skating Rink In S. Jacksonville

A request that the village board of South Jacksonville approve construction of a roller skating rink near the southern limits of the village on South Main street was discussed by the board in its May session Wednesday night.

The board decided a petition should be circulated among the residents of the immediate vicinity of the proposed rink to determine their sentiments, which will furnish guidance to possible future action by the board. The petition will be circulated "within the next few days," it was said.

The rink, if approved, will be placed on the site used by a similar structure last year. However, the operator of the proposed enterprise would not be the individual who operated the 1951 rink.

Lewis Murgatroyd, chairman of the streets and alleys committee of the board, and W. R. Schildman, village clerk, reported that the wheel tax instituted in August, 1951, has brought South Jacksonville $2,502.50 thus far. Murgatroyd remarked that "this fund will enable the village to make very badly needed repairs."

There followed a lengthy discussion of what repairs should have first priority. Murgatroyd said "it is our purpose to use the wheel tax money in the most effective way."

In a final matter, it was called to the attention of the board that some motorists are not observing stop signs at some of the intersections in the village. In directing the village attorney to take appropriate action, Otis Axe, president of the board, asserted that the village government "cannot afford to let this matter be neglected. The safety of the village's residents and particularly their children is at stake." He warned that the community's traffic regulations must be observed.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

Copyright 1951 by Helen McCloy. Reprinted through permission of the publisher. London House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, was murdered apparently by poison which he may have taken in a drink at a dinner party given by Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist. Dr. Basil Willing, also a psychiatrist, had followed Duggan to the party because Duggan had been posing as Dr. Willing. Duggan died before he could explain the next morning the next morning an aged blind woman, Miss Katherine Shaw, who had mistaken Duggan for the doctor, told him the story of the party. Dr. Willing, who was also at the party, was also at the party.

CHARLOTTE'S face was white now. Brinsley preserved his equanimity. "I think you're on the wrong track, Inspector. It's quite clear that you think Miss Dean or myself gave Aunt Kay occasion to employ Jack Duggan. But you forget one point: Aunt Kay never introduced this detective into her own home, where he would have had the best chance to investigate Miss Dean or myself. On the contrary, she made rather elaborate arrangements for him to dine at Dr. Zimmer's last night. That certainly sounds as if it were someone at Zimmer's whom she wanted Duggan to watch."

"What was her attitude toward the various people there last night?" asked Foyle.

Brinsley meditated for a moment. "She liked Zimmer best. He is quite charming with old ladies. In less than a year he became one of her heroes."

"Who introduced Zimmer to Miss Shaw?"

"Why, I believe I did."

"Where did you meet him?"

"Come to think of it, the first time I met him was at Rosamund Yorke's, but I didn't get to know him well until I became his patient."

"What was wrong with you?"

Brinsley was taken aback. "I well—I had what they call a nervous breakdown about a year ago. But I'm much better now. Zimmer knows his stuff."

SCHOOLHOUSE 'LOST' IN SNOW. Hesperus, Colo. (AP)—Winter is finally over but they're still talking about the "lost schoolhouse" in these parts.

Wade C. Folsom, a teacher at Mayday School, was trudging down the road to school in the La Plata Mountains several weeks back. Last night's snow had been plowed up into 12-foot-high banks. The path leading to the schoolhouse was gone.

"Are you suggesting that my aunt...?"

Basil nodded. Brinsley considered this while the amorous cooing of pigeons filled the sunlit yard. "It doesn't mean that Aunt Kay herself was poisoned, for how could this hypothetical person possibly know it was she who had hired Duggan?"

"Miss Dean knew," said Basil. "Because she made out the checks to Duggan. When she says 'she forgot' she means that her conscious memory lost the fact. It was always there in her subconscious memory."

"But how could she know that a man announced as 'Dr. Willing' was the man she had made out checks for as Duggan? And how could she know that Duggan was a detective?"

Basil smiled. "Then why do you think Duggan was killed?"

BRINSLEY looked up at the sky where a white cloud was sailing before an otherwise invisible wind. He spoke slowly, as if he were thinking aloud. "Dr. Willing, have you done much work in criminology?"

"I'd rather say forensic psychiatry. Except for the war years, I've been with the district attorney's office since 1938."

"You must have annoyed lots of criminals."

"Thank you," Basil's voice was dry as he wondered if Brinsley Shaw were making a crude effort to curry official favor by personal flattery.

"There is one extremely obvious motive that might have made someone want to kill Jack Duggan, and it has nothing to do with my aunt. Is it possible that it hasn't occurred to you?"

"Quite possible," Basil laughed. At least this wasn't flattery. "I'm not infallible."

Brinsley's gaze dropped from the clouds. His shallow, empty eyes looked directly at Basil. "Hasn't it really occurred to you that Jack Duggan was killed, not because he was Jack Duggan, but because he was supposed to be Basil Willing?"
